GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

Who is eligible to file a claim? All Class Members may file a claim. The Court has defined the Class as: “All living individuals residing in the United States whose PII and/or PHI was or may have been accessed or acquired in the Data Security Incident.” Here “PII” means Personally Identifiable Information, and “PHI” means Protected Health Information.

Excluded from the Settlement Class are: (1) the Judge in this case, and the Judge’s family and staff; (2) Integris’ officers, directors, and related companies; and (3) anyone who validly excludes themselves from the Settlement.

COMPLETE THIS CLAIM FORM IF YOU ARE A CLASS MEMBER AND WISH TO RECEIVE ONE OR MORE OF THE FOLLOWING SETTLEMENT BENEFITS

AVAILABLE BENEFITS

Integris will have a Settlement Fund established of $30,000,000.00. The Settlement Fund will first be used to pay (i) court-approved attorneys’ fees and costs; (ii) Service Awards for the Class Representatives; and (iii) the costs of administering the Settlement. The remaining money will be used to pay for the benefits described below to all Settlement Class Members who submit valid claims.

You may claim Credit Monitoring and Insurance services, and one (1) of the two (2) Settlement Payments described below.

BENEFITS

- Credit Monitoring and Insurance Services. All Class Members may claim three (3) years of Credit Monitoring Services from the three credit bureaus. These services will include up to $1 million of identity theft insurance.
- Documented Loss Payment. If you incurred actual, documented out-of-pocket losses due to the Data Security Incident, you may file a claim for reimbursement. The maximum amount of this reimbursement is $25,000.00.

This benefit covers out-of-pocket expenses like:

- (1) costs associated with credit monitoring or identity theft insurance purchased directly by the claimant;
- (2) costs associated with requesting a credit report;
- (3) costs associated with a credit freeze;

- (4) costs associated with cancelling a payment card and/or obtaining a replacement payment card;
- (5) costs associated with closing a bank account and/or opening a new bank account;
- (6) postage, long-distance phone charges, express mail and other incidental expenses;
- (7) unrefunded overdraft and/or overdraft protection fees;
- (8) unrefunded late and/or missed payment fees and/or charges;
- (9) unrefunded fraudulent charges occurring on or after November 1, 2023;
- (10) damages and costs associated with any stolen benefits or tax returns;
- (11) costs associated with paying for services meant to remove the claimant's PII/PHI from the dark web that was purchased directly by the claimant; and
- (12) costs associated with the claimant paying a ransom demand to the perpetrator of the Data Security Incident.

You must submit documentation, like receipts, to verify your claim. You may submit notes to clarify other documents, but self-prepared documents by themselves are not sufficient to file a valid claim.

If you claim a Documented Loss Payment, you cannot also claim a Pro Rata Cash Award.

- Pro Rata Cash Award. If you are not filing a Documented Loss Payment claim, you can claim a Pro Rata Cash Award. After all expenses, awards, and other claims have been paid, the money remaining in the Settlement Fund will be equally divided among everyone who claimed a Pro Rata Cash Award. This award is currently estimated to be $100.00 per person, but may be more or less. The actual amount will depend on the number of valid claims that are filed.

The calculations that will be used to determine the actual amount of the Pro Rata Cash Award payments are described in Paragraphs 35 and 36 of the Settlement Agreement.
